Salmagundi....?

The Salmagundi Club of New York City, founded in 1871, is the second oldest art club in the country. (The Philadelphia Sketch Club is the oldest (1860) and the Plastic Club is third oldest (1897). Like everything in New York, The Salmagundi Club is about six times larger than our club and has a regular restaurant and bar in its basement, a large main room, library, exhibition rooms, and studios in which the members work. It is affiliated with about 20 other art clubs in the U.S. and abroad. Now, we may also become affiliated with them thanks to an initiative by Bob Bohne. Pending an exchange of letters between the Boards of the respective clubs, our membership would be welcome to use their facilities when in New York and vice-versa. By the way, "salmagundi" is a type of Italian stew, and the club was named for it because of the variety of nationalities in the early membership...a "stew" of disparate parts making up a "tasty whole." We are hoping to sponsor a trip to New York in the Spring for a visit. Stay tuned. To learn more about this Club, go on their web site, salmagundi.org

Club Happenings

The Sometimes Saturdays Cinema Movie Nights under the guidance of Anders Hanson and Bob Lee continue Saturday, September 24th, (note date change) with a double bill featuring the great Italian comedies, "Divorce Italian Style" and "Big Night". Plus, there's a classic cartoon. It's free. The show starts at 6:30PM. A snack would be welcome but not required. Also the Salon, an informal discussion group, meets every second Wednesday at the Club at 6:30. Art and ideas are discussed over light snacks and drinks. Bring your latest work a get some constructive feedback. See the web site for details (and/or changes) of these and other happenings.

Models As Artists

One of the nicest shows on our calendar is the Models as Artists show that we have every summer. Knowing that our models are very talented in many ways, we like to showcase that talent every year as an expression of our gratitude and admiration for the work that they do for us. This year, 27 model/artists showed their work at the Club. The awards ceremony on Saturday, July 16th, was held in the garden on a beautiful summer afternoon. President, Bob Jackson, gave out the awards. First Prize was awarded to Jenn Warpole. Robert Willis won Second Prize and Cathy Gilbert won Third Prize. Six Honorable Mentions, awarded by the juror, Jody Sweitzer, were also given out. As always, the day included a lot of good food and drink. A good time was had by all.

Fringe Festival

The Fringe Festival takes place every year in early September. The Plastic Club became one of its venues, when we hosted the Green Light Arts' production of "The Dressing Room". It was produced and conceived by Alexandra Dilks Pandola and directed by Malika Oyetime. It consisted of four short one-act plays written by four women (one was written by Plastic Club member, Bonnie MacAllister.) There were seven evening performances in the Shiekman Studio from September 3rd to September 17th. During its run, many new faces discovered the Plastic Club. We hope to see them again.

Members' Choice

What to do in August, in the dead heat of summer, when we think of leaving the city for cooler climates? We wanted the walls to have something on them rather than face a sea of pegboard dots and lonely picture hangers until the next show arrived. So Alan Klawans, our Exhibition Chairman, came up with the idea of a casual show where our members could exhibit whatever they wanted. No entry fee, no juror, very few restrictions. Thus it was that 48 members turned out with their work and made a very fine show of 81 artworks of all types. The reception, on Sunday, August 7th, was fun, and even though Bob Jackson was in Iowa and wasn't there to cook little, tasty things, the members who came provided a nice assortment of snacks and drinks.

Sand, Sea, Wind, and Stars

The late summer show with the evocative title conjuring up memories of days and nights at the shore opened on Sunday, September 11th. This was an open, juried show and it attracted 72 members and non-members. Somewhere in these works there had to be some representation of the four things in the title, either literally or metaphorically. So, there was a lot of water, skies, beaches and sand. The juror, Boris Putterman from UARTS, picked Janice R. Moore's pastel "Cosmic Triptych" for First Prize. Second Prize went to Irma Shapiro for her painting, "Brave New World." Third Prize went to Joseph DeFay for his photograph entitled "July." Honorable Mentions went to Ellen DiPiazza, Karen Frank, John Baccile, and Charles Lenzi. Although this was a show open to the public, all the prize winners were Plastic Club members. Way to go!
